

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF ACCOUNTING

Volume 2, Number 1, 2010

S/No.	Contents	Authors	Pages
1	The Relevance of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) in the Development of Accounting Profession	Ohonba Osanwonyi	1-7
2	An Empirical Evaluation of Employees' Behavioral Variables in the Workplace a Case of the Accounting Employees	Umaigba Franklin and Eghabor Mary	8-14
3	World Bank/IMF Report on Observation of Standards and Codes: Empirical Assessment of its Implementation in Nigeria	Lateef Ayodele Agbetunde and John Ndidi Nwafa	15-23
4	Blue Ocean Strategy as a Strategic Option for Building Competitive Advantage by the Nigerian Textile Companies	Abubakar Salisu	24-30
5	A Examination of Factors Militating Against Effective Tax Administration in Nigeria	Ogheneochuko S. Alagba	31-37
6	Tax Management as an Alternative Tool for Economic Recovery and Development in Cross River State	Akabom L. Asuquo and Sunday A. Effiong	38-44
7	The Implication of Global Financial Meltdown on the Activities of Micro Financial Banks in Nigeria	Solomon Oriakhi, Michael Adinoyi and Maureen E. Oriakhi	45-48
8	Kogi state and Appraisal of the Factors Influencing Accounting Principals	Abdullahi Sani Rufai and Inyada Sunday Joseph	49-52
9	The Impact of Financial Rating in Predicting Corporate Failures in Nigeria: A Study of Zenith Bank Plc	Suleiman Hamisu Kargi	53-60
10	Mergers and Acquisitions in the Financial Sector: Implications for Human Resources Management	Kolawole Olorunisola Ibukan and Asokere Ayodele Stephen Sewanu	61-67
11	Adaptability of Statistical /Mathematical /Probability Modulation Concept in Determination of Bidder Winner in Contract Tender Quotation"	Omah I	68-71
12	Ration Analysis as a Tool for Measuring Managerial and Corporate Performance of Financial Institutions in Nigeria	Sunday Enejo Samuel, Richard Uzoefuna Oka and Christain Ikechukwu Ezugwu	72-76
13	Using Ashaka Cement Manufacturing Company to Illustrate the use of Rations in Financial Analysis	Abubakar Muhammad Magaji	77-83
14	The Role of Effective Pension Funds Management in Achieving Sustainable Development in Nigeria	Sambo Halimah Sani	84-89
15	An Appraisal of Financial Ratios as a Tools of Predicting Business Failure: A Study of Selected Quoted Firms in Nigeria	Appah Ebimobowei	90-97
16	Forest Resources Management for Sustainable Development in Cross River State of Nigeria: Challenges of the 21 st Century	David O. Edu, Etelbert E. Ayang, Agba D. O. Otonkue and Bernard E. Edu.	98-103
17	The Impact of Research in Human Assets Management, an its Importance in Publishing Financial Statements	John Ibinwangi Ogolo	104-112
18	Accounting Information a Tool for Effective Entrepreneurship Business in Nigeria: Implication for National Development	Ihenyen Confidence Joel and Udie Richard Lishilimimye	113-117
19	As Assessment of Small and Medium Scale an Assessment of Small and Medium Scale Enterprises in Alleviating Unemployment in Nigeria	John Uko, Victor O. Omorogbe and Atu Omini Ejoor Kingsley	118-122
20	The Effect of Internal Control System on Nigerian Banks	Akinyomi Oladele John	123-129